

a podcast from
BirdNote[®]

Episode 5 Bird List: A Jubilant Riot of Music

Prepared by Bob Sundstrom

- 3:47 Northern Cardinal begins singing; at least two different cardinals singing
- 4:13 Barred Owl vocalizations begin, much of them a duet or pair set of calls
- 4:30 Barred Owl duet now louder, Northern Cardinals singing in background
- 5:30 Northern Cardinal song becomes louder, and cardinal song continues through good part of sound mix
- 5:55 Barred Owl pair begin loud, raucous hooting, informally known as “monkey call”
- 7:05 White-throated Sparrow loud, metallic call note, followed by song beginning at 7:10, behind louder cardinal song in soundscape
- 8:12 Wild Turkey call (“gobble”); occurs sporadically later, often masked by louder bird voices [mix of voices continues, including: Northern Cardinal, White-throated Sparrow, Barred Owl, and frog(s) giving single husky buzz]
- 11:47 Eastern Towhee begins singing; Northern Cardinal, White-throated Sparrow, and occasionally Barred Owl continue in soundscape
- 13:02 Canada Geese calling (“honking”)
- 13:12 Woodpecker drumming begins; two different woodpeckers drumming with different resonance (at least one of them is a Red-bellied Woodpecker, based on later vocalizations in same context).
- 13:30 Carolina Wren song becomes part of complex sound mix, never quite as loud as voices in forefront
- 13:44 White-eyed Vireo song begins
- 13:47 Hooded Warbler song begins
- 14:01 Northern Parula song begins
- [new blend of voices which now includes the above mentioned wren, vireo, two warblers, drumming woodpecker(s), as well as continued cardinal and sparrow, occasionally Barred Owl deep in background]
- 14:54 Red-bellied Woodpecker vocalizations begin
- 16:29 Prothonotary Warbler song begins; heard again sporadically
- 17:05 Red-eyed Vireo sings briefly

- 17:25 Summer Tanager clicking call notes heard briefly
- 18:19 Distant Yellow-breasted Chat begins singing; continues on and off to end of recording
- 19:00 Mourning Dove cooing calls begin, continuing through rest of recording in background
- 19:13 Yellow-bellied Sapsucker drums (syncopated, rhythmic drumming sound); a heavier, typical rolling woodpecker drum is also heard
- 19:40 Red-bellied Woodpecker calls again
- 20:04 First faint Wood Thrush song notes
- [flute-like notes of Wood Thrush now join chorus mix of Mourning Doves, loud warbling song of Carolina Wren, Yellow-breasted Chat, woodpeckers]
- 21:00 Distant Tufted Titmouse song in background begins
- 21:50 Great Blue Heron vocalization (guttural squawk)
- 22:00 Yellow-billed Cuckoo calls, occasionally thereafter
- 22:02 Loud woodpecker drumming
- 22:15 Red-bellied Woodpecker calls again, louder; sporadically after
- 25:42 Great Blue Heron vocalization again
- 25:54 Louder calls from Yellow-billed Cuckoo

